

Image Annotation Using a Magazine Cover Template

This example was created using an image from LearnAlberta.ca, a magazine cover template from Big Huge Labs and Microsoft Word.

I named the magazine “Women in Alberta Politics – A New Magazine” because there weren’t any women in politics in Alberta before 1917, so a magazine like this would be something new.

I chose this photo of Irene Parlby surrounded by men to show that she was the only woman in this group of cabinet ministers.

This caption uses the word “HERstory” to show that a woman made history.

I wanted to make it clear why Irene Parlby made history – that she was the first female cabinet minister in Alberta.

I made the magazine date the same as the date this photo was taken.
